

Becoming BYU

Student Success Vision Statement

Student success means helping students to graduate from BYU and, in the process, to increase their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, strengthen their testimonies of His restored gospel and Church, including prophets and apostles, expand their minds, and cultivate Christlike character and virtues. Students should graduate from BYU equipped with the capacity and fired with the desire to spend the rest of their lives learning for the Savior's glory and serving others in His name.

To this end, the BYU Student Success Model builds upon the university's strategic priorities (Becoming BYU)—including strengthening the student experience, focusing on undergraduate teaching, and building a covenant community—by encouraging all BYU employees to provide inspiring learning and support to students, minister in the Savior's way, practice and promote principles of accountability, and foster covenant belonging and Christ-centered relationships.

We ask employees to prioritize students so that they are numbered among the members of the BYU community, remembered, nourished, and known by name (see Moroni 6:4).
